Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for your request for environmental information. We apologise for the delay in responding. We appreciate your interest, and we want to let you know that your request has been carefully considered in accordance with the Environmental Information Regulations (EIR).

In previous years you have very kindly provide the start-stop times for individual EDM detected spills at all storm overflows.

I would be very grateful if you could do the same for 2024.

Please note that the attachment is the polled data before the 12/24 hours spill counting method has been applied – details of our methodology can be found on our website here: Storm overflow performance | United Utilities. This data goes through the remaining steps detailed on our website to eventually generate the EDM annual return. As the dataset is still undergoing further review and validation, once this process is complete, the finalised version will be published on our website.

We hope that this response answers your request. However, if you're not satisfied with how we've handled it, you can request an internal review.
